Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

The bill requires the department, counties, and municipalities to provide payments to every property taxpayer in this state. The amount is equal to approximately 10 percent of the property taxes levied on real property in 2020, less the amount of the school levy property tax credit and less the amount of any delinquent real property taxes, special assessments, special charges, or special taxes owed by the taxpayer. Under the bill, the governor must allocate $1,067,824,380 from moneys received under the federal American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 to make payments under the bill. The bill provides an additional $20,000,000 for administrative costs to the department, counties, and municipalities.

The 2019-20 net property tax levy was approximately $10,678,243,832. Factoring in rounding, the department estimates the bill's cost slightly higher at $1,067,824,500. Using the statewide average net property tax rate, the tax savings for a median value home valued at $197,200 would be about $362. The actual tax savings would vary by property value and net property tax rate. Based on equalized values, approximately 20 percent of the credit benefits commercial property with indeterminate number of properties being owned by out-of-state investors. Approximately 63 percent of residential property with improvements is a primary residence, while the other 37 percent represents second homes and other residential structures that could be owned by nonresidents.

The department's administrative costs are estimated at $26,400 and cannot be absorbed. Administrative costs for county and municipal governments are indeterminate: the department is not responsible for the property tax bill calculation, distribution, or collection, and does not have parcel level data to make such determination.

Long-Range Fiscal Implications
